HELLO,
It's ANDREA here!

I am a creative Neapolitan fashion designer, driven by curiosity and determination. Through my work, I blend past and present, reinterpreting lines, contrasts, and styling to express emotions and tell compelling stories. Sensitivity and creativity shape my approach, making each design a narrative. I love dedicating myself to every part of the process—from research and sketching to construction and final communication. Skilled in both manual and digital drawing, I thrive under pressure, excel in teamwork, and embrace deadlines as part of the creative process.
